User continues to use original application UI

User manipulates spreadsheet to customize the application

End user

Data is synchronized live in both directions

Application UI

Spreadsheet view of data in the application